

CLIENTS' QUOTES

We found Matt's material to be both witty and delightful. His style is extremely funny, showing a warm enthusiasm for his work and subject matter.

Graeme Mitchell, WorldView Marketing

Matt is a terrific caricaturist who adds the personal touch to an evening, and is a popular attraction at any company function.

Martin Frost, Division President, Seagram E & A

Matt, you are a fantastic ambassador for your profession and we have received wonderful comments about how charming you were, and how at ease all the guests felt. Everyone was absolutely delighted and just loved their pictures - many, I am sure, being framed as I write!

Anton Mosimann, Mosimann's

Thank you very much for all your hard work - everyone totally loved their drawings and compliments were flying!

Sharon Garbett,
POS Promotions Ltd

The work Matt has produced for us has always been outstanding. A multi-talented caricaturist, he has a style as quick and efficient as a flick-knife. For one of our events his contribution raised an extra £1,000.

Tony Bradshaw, D'Arcy Lever PR

Matt's sketches are real ice-breakers - a must for any client party. He's charming but above all reliable - he even made it on time through floods causing three hour delays. Re-booked by very popular demand.

Liz Engel,
Lyons Waddell Ltd

Matt has a gift for portraying guests imaginatively and with true likeness. He went down very well and continued to work late into the night, well past his provisional time, due to the demand.

Caroline Edmunds,
ICI

Matt also produces caricatures from his studio at home - an ideal and unique gift

QUICK ON THE DRAW

As one of the best caricaturists in the country, you can rely on Matt to provide the very best entertainment and highest quality caricatures. He is guaranteed to amuse your guests with his art and his wit, and to provide them with a gift they will want to take home with them.

Matt has established himself as one of the foremost caricaturists in the country. His drawings are of the highest quality, funny and sensitive to the demands of everyone he draws.

Matt is guaranteed to be a highlight at any function, be it a corporate event, private party or wedding. He is totally professional and his easy manner and humour suit every occasion. He mixes and blends in any company from High Society and Celebrity occasions to children's parties - grateful customers include Ambassadors and two-year olds!

His work attracts everyone, with onlookers queuing for his drawings once they see the quality of the work. "The Art of being a good caricaturist is in judging the personalities and their expectations as well as peoples' features" he says, "I want guests go home treasuring their drawings".

At a recent event for Orange he drew 40 people in just 2 hours, with the queue refusing to shrink until the coaches prepared to leave. When the pressure is less intense Matt enjoys learning people's hobbies and interests, incorporating these in the drawings so as to make the results even more personal.

Personal history

Matt has been working as an illustrator for the past 10 years, in a variety of different fields. He began as a travel illustrator, going on various expeditions, before coming to London.

Most of his work has been as a caricaturist and cartoonist, and he is often called upon to do visualising and concept development work. He also specializes as a court artist for TV news, covering such cases as the Dr. Shipman Trial, the Scott Inquiry, Al Fayed versus The Hamiltons, and more recently the Jeffrey Archer trial.

He also works as a designer, and has been working as a part-time Art Editor on several magazines, which has allowed him the flexibility to pursue his other interests at the same time.

Clients include the BBC, Shell, Channel 4 News, Ernst & Young, ICI, Orange, Mercedes, Dell, Schlumberger, Avis, Dulux, B.A. and many other blue-chip companies, including British Gas at the Millennium celebrations at the Greenwich Observatory.
